Theological Institution. Septr. 24th 1824.

Respected Sir.

We, the undersigned, have been appointed a Committee, to expreſs to you, in the name of the Junior Class, the gratitude, affection, and respect, which we cherish towards you, as a Teacher, and as a Man. And we are happy to assure you, Sir, that, altho' our connection with you has been short and interrupted; it has been to us, most interesting and profitable. When we review the course, through which you have conducted us, we feel, that we cannot appreciate too highly your arduous labours, nor possess too abundantly the Spirit, with which you have executed them. If we have not become thoroughly acquainted, with whatever you have attempted to teach us, it is not because knowledge, or skill, or faithfulneſs, has been wanting in you. You have led us into those minute particulars, which are of the first importance to us, but which from their very familiarity, must have been uninteresting, and tedious to yourself: and yet you have done it, with a patience, and a pleasure, which nothing but the strongest desire for our improvement, and the highest sense of duty could sustain. In all your intercourse with us, you have manifested the tenderest regard to our feelings, as men, and the most sincere and ardent desire for our usefulneſs as Christian Ministers. The afflictions, which you have recently experienced, have been afflictions to us. We regret, that you have been able to instruct us so little, We regret, we are to enjoy your instructions no more. But we are happy to reflect, that the instructions, which we have already received, are more precious to us than silver or gold, and that our attachment to your character cannot be limited by the short period, in which it has been formed. Accept, Sir for all your kindneſs, and all your fidelity, the the sincerest and warmest gratitude of our hearts, and the fullest aſsurance of our cordial esteem. And be pleased to receive this expression of our feelings,

-nt as the obsequious language of a single individual, or even of our Committee, but believe it to be, Sir, as it really is, the sincere and unanimous voice of the Junior Class.

In behalf of the Class,
We are, Sir, Yours truly,

Mr Edward Robinson.

David O. Allen	Henry C. Jewett.	Committee of the Junior Class.
Milton Badger	Eben^r D. Maltbie
Sam. W. Clark	S. G. Pierce
Lyman Gilbert	John W. Yeomans
Jon^n S. Gunn.	John Crosby
William Horton,	F. A. Strale.

f7a

Mr. Edward Robinson.

Present.

Junior Class, Sept. 1825